The Widow's Cry

'My brother left home hoping to buy some bread. On his return as he approached the doorstep, a sniper shot him in his leg. I saw my brother lying helplessly in a pool of blood.'

Sharing her story with us, the widow broke down and sobbed uncontrollably.

During my stay in Syria I began questioning why a nation would be willing to sacrifice so much, simply for regime change. A young man from Tabaka answered my question,

'Whilst I was studying in Damascus, I started praying Salah and growing a beard due to my increasing love for the Sunnah. I was arrested, imprisoned and tortured for five years.'

The regime's sustained assault on the fundamental right of every Muslim to practise Islam and the Sunnah was the last straw in this proud people's patience.

The people of Syria are fixed on this path of sacrifice. Their sons, daughters, properties and lives are ready to be exchanged in order to preserve this gift of Iman which is so dear to them.

The above is an extract of a letter I wrote in April 2013, following a visit to a Syrian refugee camp.

I often think how many more stories like this will never be told and never be heard. How many of our widowed sisters and orphaned children, not just in Syria but across the Ummah today, have suffered like this in the shadows?

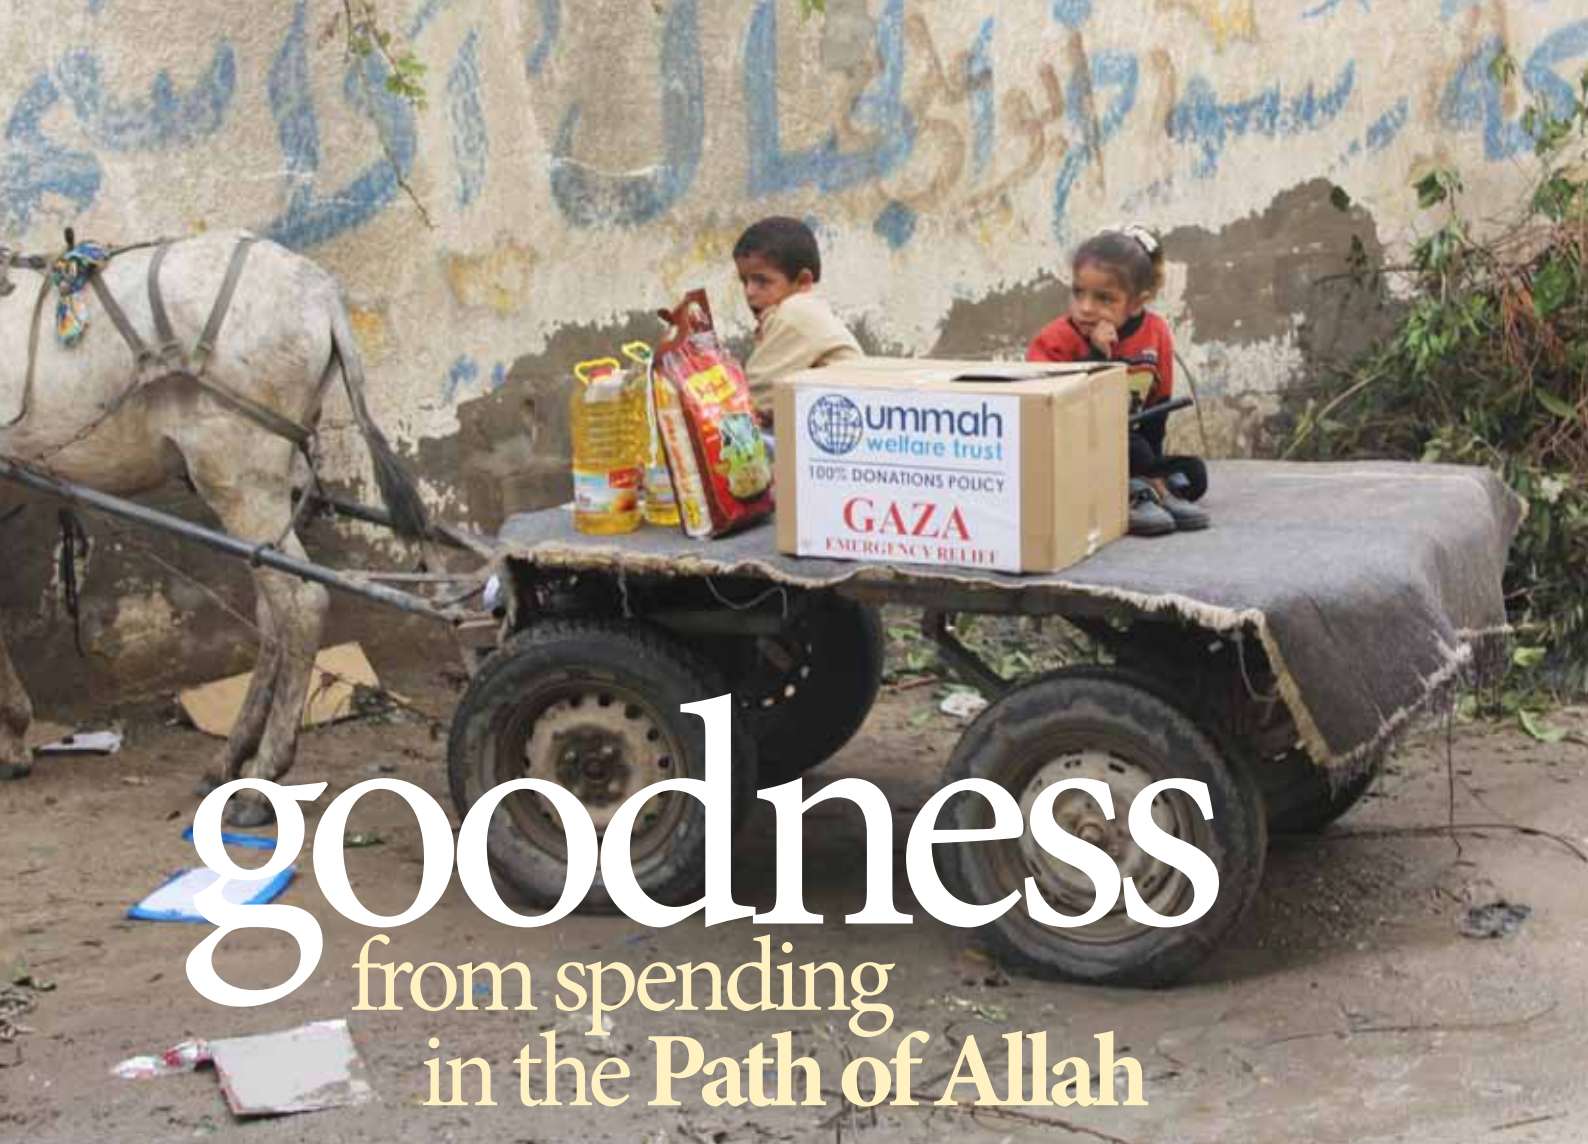

1434 Hijri (2012/13) has sadly seen another rise in the Muslim Ummah of suffering families fleeing war and poverty. Alhamdulillah, despite the challenges, Ummah Welfare Trust continues in its mission to search for and provide relief to the victims of these trials.

In the past year, the generous contributions of the Ummah have enabled the charity to reach out to over two million people across 21 countries, spending £12.6 million in the process.

May Allah shower His mercy upon the donors, the volunteers and the staff who continue to contribute so much in helping to wipe the tears of the orphans, the widows and the frail.

Mohammad Ahmad

Trustee, Ummah Welfare Trust

Indeed in all Allah's revelations, in the intellect, and amongst the experiences of all nations regardless of their beliefs, there is unanimity that becoming closer to Allah, seeking His pleasure and being kind towards His creation are the greatest reasons for receiving goodness.

The bounties of Allah are never pursued, nor is the anger of Allah ever kept away, with anything better than His obedience and doing good to His creation.

- Ibn al Qayyim Rahimahullah

One receives 10 benefits when he spends in the Path of Allah:

In this Life

- His wealth is purified
- His body is purified
- Illnesses and calamities are repelled
- The difficulties of the poor and destitute are alleviated
- His wealth receives barakah (blessings)

In the Hereafter

- His charity is a shade for him on the day when there will be no shade
- His reckoning on the Day of Judgement is lightened
- His scale of good deeds becomes heavier
- The crossing of the Sirat (a bridge over hellfire) is made easier
- His rank in Paradise is elevated

SYRIA

Since May 2011, over 70,000 Muslims have been martyred. Three million people are displaced and one million are now refugees.

Ummah Welfare Trust has been appealing for funds and providing relief to our brothers and sisters since early 2012. Alhamdulillah, through your generosity, much relief has been provided.

Relief in Syria:

15,000 families across Idlib, Aleppo, Damascus, Hama, Homs, Raqqa, Deir Ezzor and the coastal areas have received food supplies.

200 wounded victims in Homs received emergency medical treatment.

50 cows and 108 sheep were sacrificed for Eid ul Adha.

50 tonnes of flour were distributed across rural areas.

750 families received winter aid kits.

700 medical kits were provided across northern Syria.

Relief in Jordan and Turkey:

24,000 families were provided with emergency food provisions.

4,000 families received kitchen and wash utensils.

4,000 families received hygiene kits.

Total spent since the appeal launch

£3.2 million

Total beneficiaries (approx.)

440,000

A camp for WIDOWS AND ORPHANS

The crisis in Syria is well into its third year. The violence has created 17,000 widows and 40,000 orphans.

In a new phase, Ummah Welfare Trust is establishing a camp inside Syria to support widowed and orphaned families. A unique camp, it will cater for every need of the widows and orphans.

Newly arrived families will be provided with mattresses, clothing, blankets, kitchen utensils and hygiene kits, and will be given freshly cooked food twice a day.

The camp will have a masjid, free schooling for children and segregated toilet facilities. Twenty water tankers, each with a capacity of 2 tonnes, will ensure there is a permanent supply of water.

A 50KV generator will also be installed, ensuring a constant electricity supply to tents, the masjid and the kitchen.

Ummah Welfare Trust asks you to donate generously for the running costs of this camp and help bring comfort to our widowed sisters and orphaned children.

You can give Zakah, Sadaqah and Lillah for this noble project.

Allah will remain committed to helping His servant as long as the servant remains committed to helping his brother.

- Sahih Muslim

PALESTINE

In November 2012, sustained bombings by occupiers on Gaza martyred over a hundred Palestinians and injured over a thousand.

Cowardly attacks from the skies destroyed schools, water sources, hospitals, masjids and homes. Much of the infrastructure that was rebuilt following bombings in 2009 was destroyed again.

Your donations allowed Ummah Welfare Trust to respond immediately to this round of violence. The charity provided medicines and disposable equipment to hospitals across Gaza, including Al Shifa hospital.

Through the winter months into 2013, many affected families received emergency provisions:

630

families received winter kits consisting of blankets and mattresses.

250

families received survival kits consisting of a 200 litre water tanker and kitchen utensils.

250

families received emergency food provisions.

Ummah Welfare Trust in Gaza

Ummah Welfare Trust has an established base in Gaza from where it has administered relief efforts for many years alhamdulillah. In the past year Ummah Welfare Trust has administered the following:

Total spent in the past year (approx.)

£690,000

100 Families 10 Schools 1 Hospital received desalinated water weekly

700
children provided with new toys and clothes

200

- Repaired Masjid Qaqa in Al-Tuffah
- Provided diesel-powered generators to Al Wosta Medical Centre and Al-Shawwa Hospital
- Began construction of the new As-Suffa school for 300 students in Nuseirat

OPPRESSION IN BURMA

They are those who have been evicted from their homes without right, only because they say, 'Our Lord is Allah.'

Al-Qur'an - 22:40

Residing under an oppressive rule and victims of regular vigilantism by a majority-Buddhist population, the Rohingya Muslims of Arakan have suffered greatly in the past century.

In June 2012, in another flashpoint of violence against Muslims in Burma, savage attacks perpetrated by mobs led to a terrible situation for the Rohingya. In a few bloody months, thousands of Muslims were killed and 125,000 were left displaced.

As tensions seemingly calmed, on 20th March 2013 in Meiktila city, Buddhist mobs began destroying the property, shops, masjids and houses of Muslims once again.

The situation across the country today remains tense. Thousands of Muslims have taken refuge in sports stadiums, schools and camps, many of which have been blockaded.

No man forsakes a Muslim when his rights are being violated or his honour is being belittled except that Allah will forsake him at a place in which he would love to have His help.

And no man helps a Muslim at a time when his honour is being belittled or his rights violated except that Allah will help him at a place in which he loves to have His help.

- Sunan Abi Dawud

Ummah Welfare Trust in Burma

Ummah Welfare Trust has been working in Burma for 8 years. The charity:

- Builds madrassahs, masjids and graveyards.
- Sponsors hundreds of orphans.
- Constructs homes.
- Installs hand pumps.
- Administers seasonal work, such as Iftaar provisions and Qurbani.
- Supports two orphanages.

Through 2012 and the start of 2013, grants were administered in Arakan to 6,000 Rohingya families who had been affected by the violence. In Meiktila, 300 affected families were provided with grants.

Cash grants, varying from £15 to £50, will continue to be distributed to newly-affected families through 2013 inshaAllah.

Ummah Welfare Trust also plans to construct shelters, toilets and hand pumps in the makeshift camps in Arakan. For Ramadhan, an Iftaar campaign for displaced Rohingya families will be administered.

Total spent in past year (approx.)

£450,000

Islam in Burma

Islam entered Burma through Arakan sometime in the first century after Hijra. Tabi'oon (successors of the Companions) arriving for commerce invited people to Islam. In a few short years, the whole region embraced the religion.

Da'ees and Muslim merchants continued coming to the region and Islam flourished for many centuries. In 1430 AH, an Islamic state was established by the ruler Sulaiman Shah Rahimahullah.

Forty-eight Muslim rulers successively ruled Arakan and Islam's dominance in the region endured for over 3 centuries.

In 1784, the region became occupied by Buddhists of neighbouring Burma and Arakan became one of the 14 provinces of the state. Today the state is called Myanmar.

HUNGER & DISPLACEMENT IN

MALI

In its past, Mali was a hub for knowledgeable 'ulama and pious worshippers. Its abundant resources were used as Sadaqah for the poor Muslims of Africa.

The cycle of chronic poverty and war continues to displace families across the African continent. In early 2013, Mali became the latest victim.

Millions of Muslims today are displaced, hundreds of thousands of whom have fled through the country's porous borders to neighbouring countries.

Prolonged dry seasons followed by conflict and occupation led to a terrible situation for Muslims in this West African state.

Ummah Welfare Trust, with an established base in Niger, shifted focus to the country's western border, aiming to help some of the 50,000 Malian refugees who had fled here.

THE RESPONSE

In the Ayorou refugee camp, situated close to the Mali border, Ummah Welfare Trust distributed food provisions to 500 newly-arrived families. Provisions included baby milk, rice and oil.

For Ramadhan, Ummah Welfare Trust will implement a large scale Iftaar programme, helping tens of thousands of refugees see through the blessed month.

Thousands of dispossessed refugees will also receive new clothing tailored to their cultural requirements.

May Allah keep strong ties between us and the poor Muslims of Africa. On the Day of Judgement, may He raise us with their likes. Ameen.

'A time came upon us when none of us believed that they were more worthy of (keeping) the dinar and dirham than his Muslim brother; now a time has come where the dinar and dirham is more beloved to us than our Muslim brother.'

Ummah Children Academy

Hafidh Asadullah is in the 9th class at the UCA. He comes from a small village in the Torland district of Nowshera. He was just a year old when his father, Shah Pasand Khan, died.

Living in a mud-brick home and already impoverished, Asadullah's family suffered greatly after the demise of their father.

Asadullah had an elder brother, Ihsanullah, who was disabled. Despite his frailty, the family's desperation forced him to seek work.

Asadullah says, "My brother would work for a tailor, who would give him just a little money each day. The money was never enough, but what could we do? We had to suffer this way."

For five years, Asadullah's family lived a hand to mouth existence, barely surviving on the meagre earnings of a disabled sibling. The family slept hungry on many nights.

Alhamdulillah, as time passed, Ihsanullah learnt of a vacant post for a tailor at the UCA. He was encouraged to apply and, following an interview, was taken on.

He later informed UCA staff about the plight of his family, who, upon surveying the family, enrolled Asadullah.

Alhamdulillah, at the UCA Asadullah flourished and within a short time memorised the whole Qur'an.

May the Book of Allah – clear and uncorrupted – be a means of honour for the parents of Asadullah. Ameen.

They will ask, "Why have we been given this to wear?" It will be said, "Because your child learned the Qur'an."*

Ummah Centre for the Disabled

Ummah Welfare Trust is appealing for funds to build a new rehabilitation centre for disabled people in Pakistan.

The charity's current centre in Rawalpindi caters for 57 children and adults with special needs. With your help, the new centre will provide full-time care to 250 disabled children and adults.

Cost of the new center
£1.3 million

BREAKDOWN OF THE NEW CENTRE
Description	Area	Cost
Basement Floor	20,140 sq. ft.	£258,943

Second Floor	26,100 sq. ft.	£335,571

Hashir Hussain

Hashir was born with an abscess in his lower back. Born into an impoverished family, he lived with this painful swelling through the early stages of his life.

Though the family could not afford to pay for an operation to have the abscess removed, it was difficult for Hashir's father, Ashiq, to see his only son in such pain. He borrowed money therefore to pay for an operation.

The abscess was removed but Hashir's lower limbs were left paralysed. After the operation, Hashir could not move his feet even slightly.

Alhamdulillah, disability and poverty did not prevent Hashir's parents from trying to further his education. In December 2012, Hashir was brought to the Ummah Centre for the Disabled by his parents.

Hashir was enrolled immediately and now boards at the centre. May Allah preserve him. Hashir is smart, talkative and has excellent conduct. He reads the Qur'an daily and receives continued support and rehabilitation.

May Allah give us the opportunity to support more children across the Ummah like young Hashir. Ameen.

Seek help amongst your weak ones, for you are only given provision and help because of the weak amongst you.
- Sunan Abi Dawud

Education

Education is a basic objective for the development of any society. Knowledge imparted through education widens a man's horizons and renders his aspirations lofty.

The overriding necessity for mankind is to know that they are slaves of their Creator, Allah 'azza wajjal; and to know His Messenger Muhammad Sallallahu 'alaihi wasallam and that which he brought.

There is neither a path to success nor ability to know good from evil except through this knowledge. No matter how urgent a need or great a necessity, the need for one to know this is far above it.

If success is dependent upon this knowledge, then it is incumbent upon every person who loves salvation for himself to learn Islam and its affairs. Therein lies happiness and success.

Da'wah centre in the Philippines

On the Mindanao Island in the southern Philippines, Ummah Welfare Trust has contributed towards the construction of a two-storey da'wah and education centre for children and adults.

A first of its kind in the region, the centre provides free training, courses and Islamic literature to impoverished families.

This is a project that Ummah Welfare Trust hopes will become the foundation for reviving the love of Islam in the Philippines.

Contributing cost
£38,800

Madrassah in Haiti

Ummah Welfare Trust has helped complete the construction of one of the first Islamic schools in Haiti. Alhamdulillah, a large building, it is situated in the mountainous area of the Miragoane district.

3,000 children are provided with free modern and Islamic education. The Qur'an, Arabic, fiqh and ahaadith are taught in a structured manner.

From the centre, relief and seasonal Islamic projects are also administered in the surrounding impoverished areas.

Cost
£120,000

New school in Gaza

On 750 square meters of land in Nuseirat, Ummah Welfare Trust is constructing the As-Suffa school.

This school will provide free modern and Islamic education to 300 poor children in the Gaza strip, ensuring that they receive the spiritual, emotional and intellectual support they deserve.

Students will also enrol onto the Tahfeedhul Qur'an course. Learning several chapters a year, every child will become a Hafidh of the Qur'an bi 'ithnillah.

Cost
£12,000
per year

Supporting schools in Malawi

Centuries-long missionary work has decimated any standing that Islam once had in Malawi. Even in Muslim-majority state schools today, the teaching of the Bible is mandatory.

Ummah Welfare Trust, working at the grassroots, is funding the running of five Islamic schools in Mangochi, southern Malawi. These provide free education to 1,000 children.

Though in its infancy, the work in Malawi is one that reflects Ummah Welfare Trust's longer-term ambitions of planting the seeds of Imaan in the next generation of Muslims.

Warmth For The Winter

£3 million

spent on the 2012-2013
winter campaign

40,000

people benefitted

Taking care of the poor in the winter and protecting them from the cold is a great deed. Safwan bin Salim RadiAllahu 'anhu went out on a cold night in Madinah near the mosque, and he saw a man with little clothing on. So, he took off his coat and covered him up with it.

Someone living in Sham saw in a dream that Safwan bin Salim had entered Paradise with a shirt he had made. So he went to Madinah and said, 'Show me where Safwan is.' When he found him, he related to him the dream.

- Ibn Rajab al-Hanbali Rahimahullah

Alhamdulillah, through your donations, Ummah Welfare Trust implemented its largest ever winter relief operation for 2012 - 2013. Over 40,000 families, mired in war and chronic poverty, received support this winter.

Given the different needs on the ground, provisions varied from country to country. In Syria and Afghanistan, Islamic items, such as Qur'ans, were also provided with the clothing and blankets.

In Gaza, many families were dispossessed following the Israeli bombardments in November. Ummah Welfare Trust supplied mattresses here along with its winter provisions.

We ask Allah to make our help for the Ummah continuous; and not confined to any situation or season. Ameen

Helping a Widow

Meya Khella lives in a mud-brick house with her four children. A 46 year old widow, Meya's husband died in a road accident some years ago.

Meya's oldest son, Mansoorullah, is 14 and works as a manual labourer in Mansera. He earns just 150 rupees (less than a pound) a day. The family are forced to survive on this.

For the winter, Ummah Welfare Trust provided Meya and her family with:

Quilts

Mattresses

Pillows

Winter Shawls

Winter Coats

Shoes & Socks

Winter provisions were distributed to families in:

Syria

Palestine

Afghanistan

Pakistan

India

Bangladesh

RAMADHAN

Total spent in Ramadhan 2012
£5.8 million

The Messenger of Allah Sallallahu 'alaihi wasallam and his companions would increase their worship in Ramadhan and give more generously towards the poor.

Alhamdulillah, for Ramadhan 2012, over half a million Muslims benefitted from Iftar packs distributed by Ummah Welfare Trust. Provisions not only fed poor families but importantly allowed them to fast and receive the blessings of Ramadhan.

£5 million budget for Ramadhan 2013

Ummah Welfare Trust will provide iftar packs to poor Muslims in 17 countries around the world. Special focus will be given to:

- Widowed and orphaned families inside Syria.
- Refugees in Niger who have fled civil strife in Mali, West Africa.
- Impoverished families on the Pakistan-Afghan border.

QURBANI 2012

Over half a million Muslims benefitted from last year's Qurbani programme.

In 2012, the Qurbani project was rendered in 18 countries across Africa, Asia and the Middle East. A total of 4,348 large animals and 5,096 small animals were sacrificed.

Thousands of poor Muslim families in Palestine, Syria and Iraq received Udhiyah meat. Families in these blessed regions have suffered greatly but their standing with Allah, Glory be to Him, is great. Ummah Welfare Trust asks Allah to accept its efforts in these areas.

In Pakistan, 3,450 animals were sacrificed for the long-standing flood victims of Sindh, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Baluchistan. While from Pakistan, the Udhiyah meat of over 1,000 animals was trucked to poverty-stricken families in Afghanistan and Kashmir.

Nearly 2,000 cows were sacrificed across India. Poor families in Sunderban and families suffering in the on-going violence in Assam received fresh meat. In Burma, 280 large cows were sacrificed; the meat of many of these animals was transported to suffering Muslims in the state of Arakan.

Udhiyah meat was also enjoyed across the African continent in Gambia, Kenya, Malawi, Senegal, Somalia and Sudan.

£1,040,870
spent on Qurbani in 2012

£163,836.43 raised by children in the UK

In the run up to 'Eid ul Adha, the Kidz 4 Kidz campaign encouraged school children from across the UK to raise money and help children affected by war in Palestine, Syria and Somalia.

Alhamdulillah the campaign was a huge success, allowing thousands of Syrian, Palestinian and Somali children to receive new gifts and clothes.

2. Administration Account

The administration account is used to fund the charity's operations. It has its own sources of income and criteria for expenditure. Through this account, not only does Ummah Welfare Trust cover its administration costs in the UK but the administration costs of field offices abroad.

Income

- Donations specified for administration
- Profits from Ummah Welfare Trust shops
- Income generated from clothing banks
- 'Gift Aid' Tax reclaimed on donations
- Electronic transaction charges paid by donors

Expenditure

- Charity assets - buildings, clothing banks, vehicles, etc.
- Administration - rent, rates, wages, equipment, etc.
- Surplus funds are transferred to the relief account

E.g. In 2012, £125,000 was transferred to the International Relief & Development Account and spent on building an orphanage.

We ask Allah, Lord of the Glorious Throne, to ease the affairs of the Muslim Ummah and to restore its honour and high aspirations. We ask Him, who hears the cries of His slaves, for His Assistance; for indeed He is the one who brings forth and He is the one who withholds.

And finally we ask Allah, the Most Merciful, to accept our meagre efforts - for He is Self-sufficient and we are in need of Him; and to continue using us to aid the Ummah of the Leader of Mankind, Muhammad Mustafa Sallallahu 'alaihi wasallam.

The Messenger of Allah Sallallahu 'alaihi wasallam said:
From the most beloved of deeds to Allah is to make a believer happy and remove a grief from him, or to repay his debt or to satisfy his hunger.
